F. Monitoring and Auditing Activities

Compuscan has implemented a risk-based compliance program in terms of the Credit Reporting Privacy Code 2014 (CR Code).

The risk-based program –

- was used to identify and evaluate risk indicators of non-compliance by credit providers;
- was utilised to assess the risk posed by the credit providers of significant non-compliance with their obligations in terms of the CR Code;
- utilised the identified risk indicators and the range of information available to Compuscan, including correction requests and complaints, for the risk assessments;

- utilised a range of monitoring techniques to validate and update those risk assessments from time to time, including:
 - Questionnaires and attestations
 - Monthly usage monitoring reports
 - Keeping a log of all data corrections and data maintenance requested; and
- included an audit program to assess credit providers' compliance to their obligations in terms of the Credit Code.

The audit program was designed to monitor compliance by credit providers with the following obligations:

- That credit information disclosed by the credit provider to Compuscan, is accurate, up-to-date and complete
- That credit reporting information that Compuscan discloses to the credit provider, is protected by the credit provider from misuse, interference and loss and from unauthorised access, modification or disclosure
- That the credit provider takes the steps in relation to requests to correct credit-related personal information required by Part IIIA, the Regulations and the CR Code

A total of 18% of all entities were identified to be audited based on the risk indicators that were identified and evaluated according to the risk-based program.

The results of the audits ranged from Satisfactory to Excellent. No systemic issues were identified. No incidents of misuse or loss of data was identified. We are not aware of any reported breaches by credit providers of the Privacy Act, Privacy Regulations or Credit Reporting Code.

Compuscan's program will be reviewed annually to further improve its effectiveness and efficiency where possible.
